

KNOWLEDGE MANAGEMENT & THE WORLD

KM HAPPENINGS FROM AROUND THE WORLD, DEVELOPMENTS, THOUGHT LEADERS AND EVERYTHING THAT YOU NEED TO KNOW!

EQUITABLE AI REQUIRES KNOWLEDGE SHARING, SAFEGUARDS AGAINST BIAS

Adam Patterson

A spinout from the University of Cambridge has secured £1.5m in seed funding to begin the rollout of its unique artificial intelligence technology.

...read more

JCI DHAKA WEST, KNOWLEDGEBEEZ GLOBAL SIGN MOU ON KNOWLEDGE SHARING

JCI Dhaka West and KnowledgeBeez Global UK have agreed to build cooperation between them by signing a memorandum of understanding (MoU) on Knowledge sharing and partnership.

Under the MoU, JCI Dhaka West and KnowledgeBeez will jointly organise online and in-person trainings for the former's members on operational excellences, leadership skills and emotional intelligence, among others.

...read more

HOW LEADING KNOWLEDGE IS CHANGING IN THE POST-COVID-19 WORLD

Mostafa Sayyadi

In an effort to grasp the knowledge of executives throughout North America in a post-COVID-19 world, leaders from large corporations operating in a wide range of industries were surveyed. Consistent with predictions, many executives agreed that knowledge management has become a focal point of executive span of control.

...read more

KNOWLEDGE TRANSFER IS KEY TO ORGANIZATIONAL SUCCESS

Eliza Blanchard

The shift to remote work in 2020 has reshaped every aspect of the workplace, including how companies capture knowledge and how employees share it. Deloitte's 2020 Global Human Capital Trends report found that knowledge management is one of the top three issues that influence how well companies fair.

...read more

CAMBRIDGE SPINOUT IKVA CONFIRMS ARRIVAL OF £1.5M SEED FUNDING FOR AI TECH

Barney Cotton

A spinout from the University of Cambridge has secured £1.5m in seed funding to begin the rollout of its unique artificial intelligence technology.

...read more

APQC NAMES SIX ORGANIZATIONS TO ITS EXCELLENCE IN KNOWLEDGE MANAGEMENT RECOGNITION PROGRAM

APQC, the benchmarking and best practices research firm, has named six organizations as recipients of its Excellence in Knowledge Management program for 2021. Launched in 2019, this recognition is based on analysis from APQC's Knowledge Management Capability Assessment Tool, which provides an evidence-based methodology with which to measure and evaluate KM competencies across four categories: strategy, people, process, and content and information technology.

...read more

WHO NEEDS KNOWLEDGE?

One thing that is common for every human being on the planet is that none of us were born with a celestial gift of knowing everything. From the very moment we are born, our learning journey starts, even if we don't realise it.

...read more

Do you want to be updated with the knowledge management news around the world? Subscribe to our newsletter by clicking here and leave us your email.

